

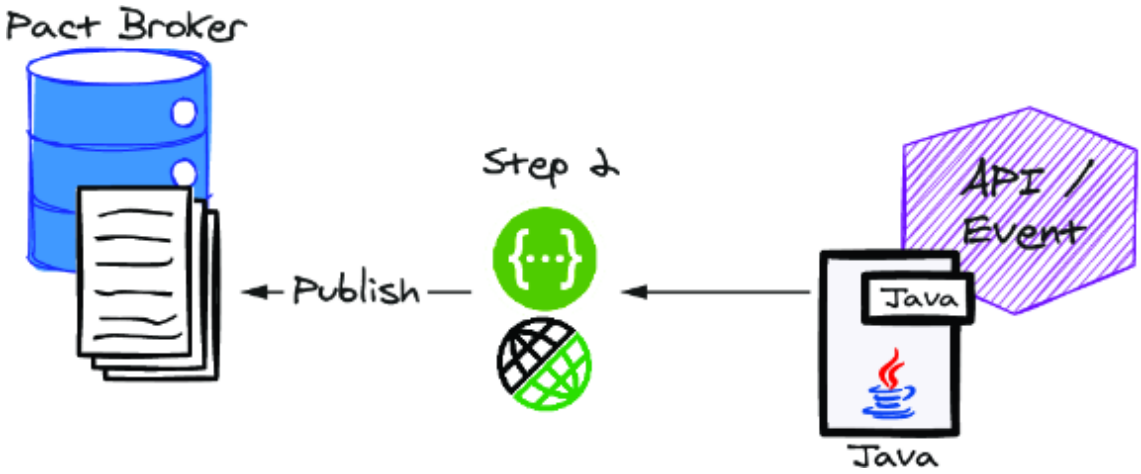

Figure 3.12 The Java API service publishes the OpenAPI documentation to the Pact Broker with test results.

Once the consumer and provider have published their contracts and test results to the broker, the broker compares the provider OpenAPI specification with the consumer contract, as shown in figure 3.13, and the provider test results also confirm the provider contract verification status (mentioned in the contract testing life cycle, section 3.1).