- To effectively set up provider states, the name of the provider state from the consumer must match the name of the state handler from the provider.
- When contract changes are made, Pact recommends a unique version number to avoid any unreliable results with contract verification.