- The Pact message producer test implementation concentrates on the message body method only, meaning it’s independent of any specific event tools.