(https://nodejs.org/en/download), as shown in figure B.1.

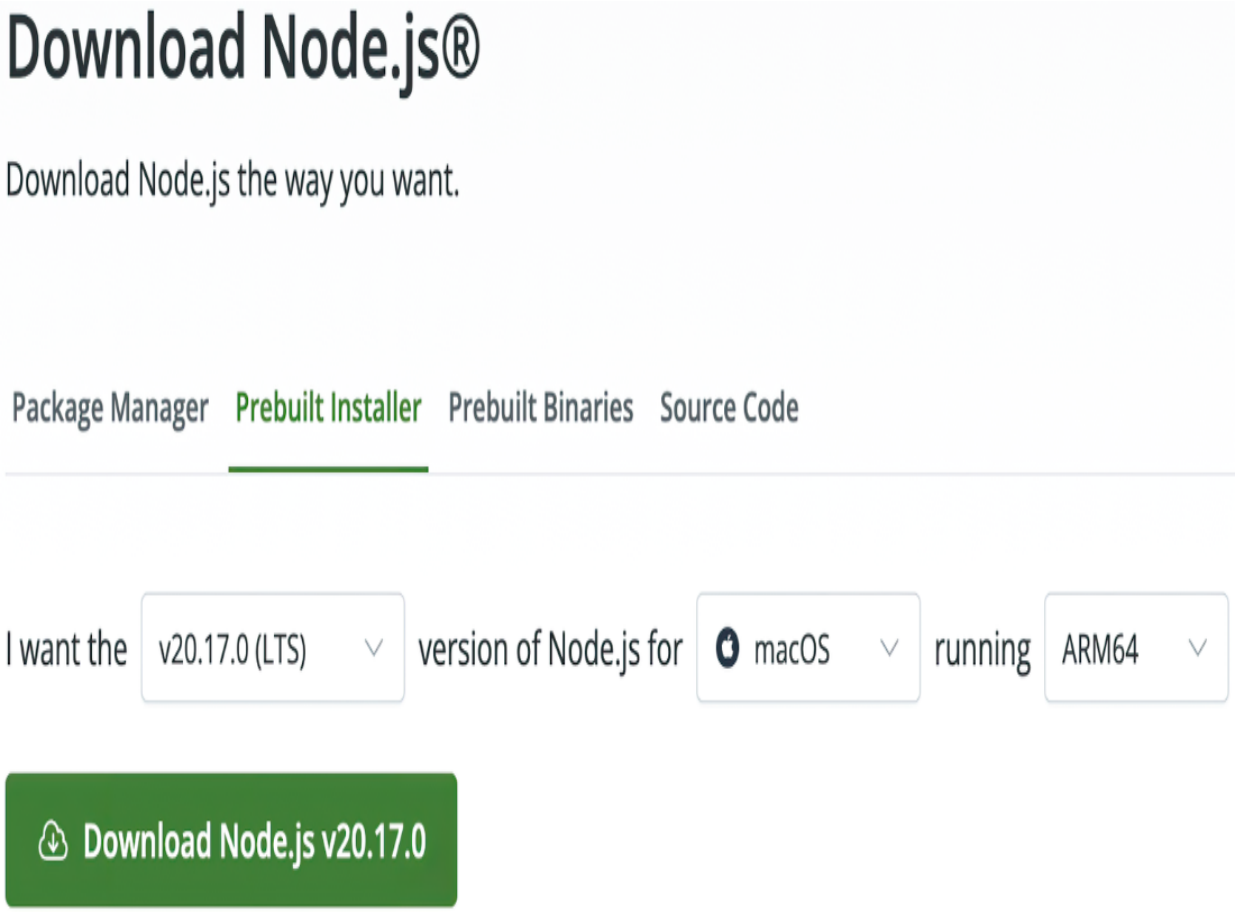

Figure B.1 Download page for Node.js

Once you've successfully downloaded Node, you can verify that the installation was successful by opening your terminal of choice and typing in the following command:

```
node -v
```

This should return the version that you've downloaded, which—as of writing this book—is 18.18.0. Later versions of Node should be backward compatible, but to be sure, check out the up-to-date requirements of pact-js, which you can find at https://mng.bz/DpOw.