Conclusion

In this project, we built a simple File Encryption Tool using the Caesar Cipher algorithm. We implemented basic encryption and decryption functionality, along with file handling to read from and write to text files. This project provided a good introduction to the concepts of encryption and data security, and it serves as a foundation for more advanced encryption techniques.

By exploring encryption methods and enhancing the tool with additional features, you can develop a more robust and secure file encryption program.