The Polar Bookshop system needs a Config Service application to provide centralized configuration. You can initialize the project from Spring Initializr (https://start.spring.io/) and store the result in a new `config-service` Git repository. The parameters for the initialization are shown in figure 4.9.

