

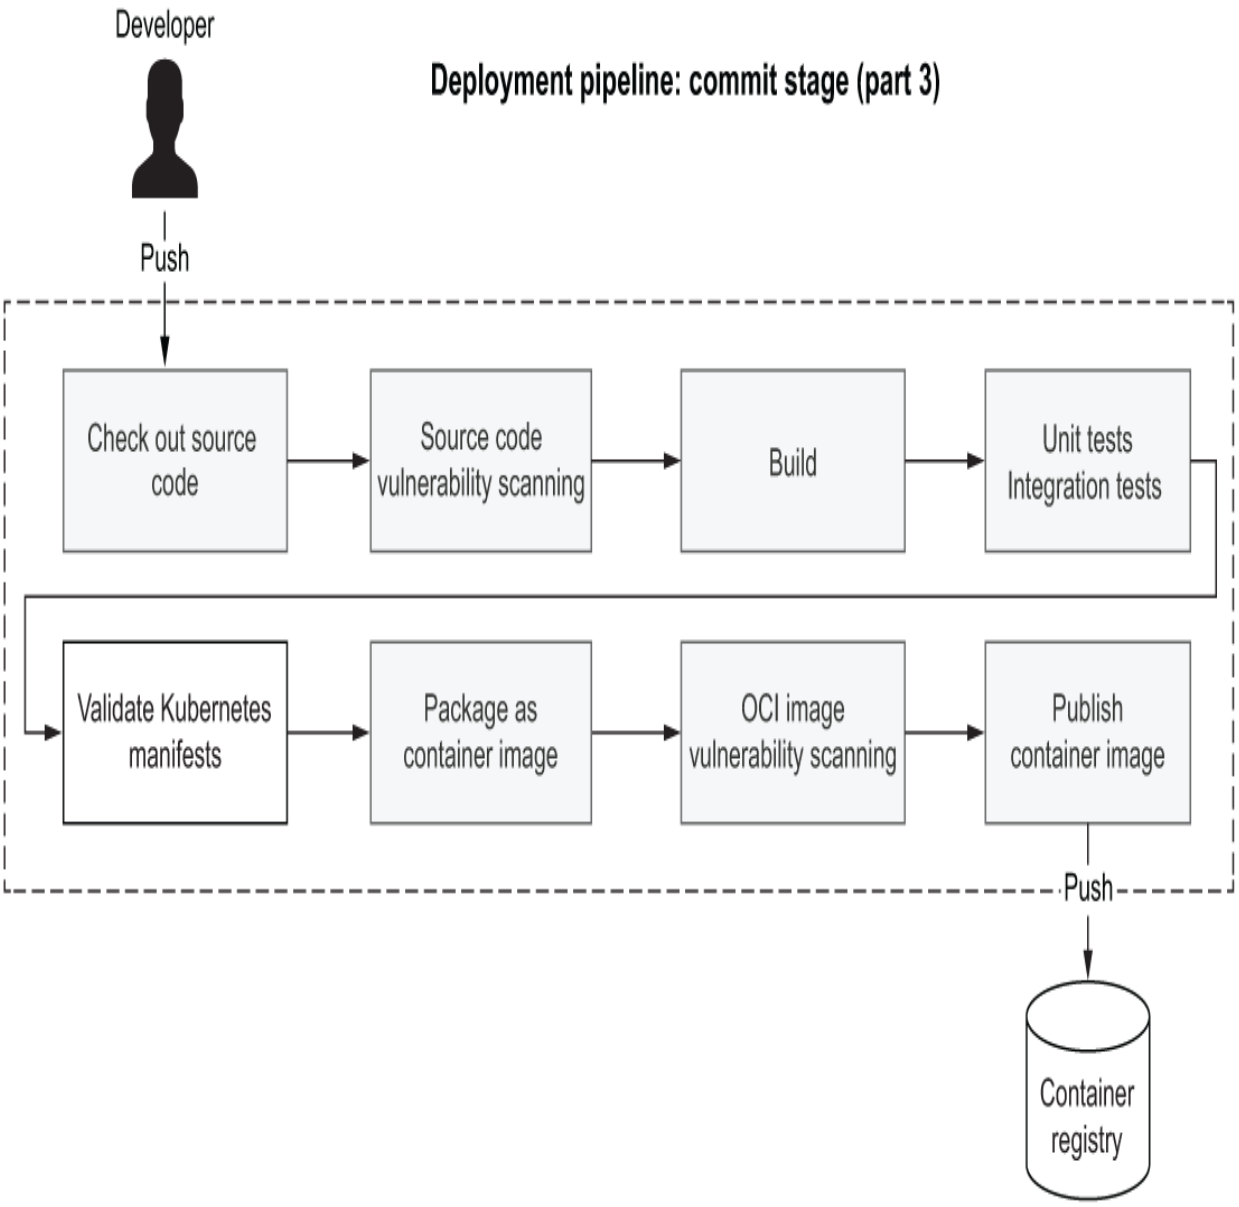

Figure 7.15 When Kubernetes manifests are included in the application repository, a new step in the commit stage is included to validate them.

There are several ways of validating Kubernetes manifests against the Kubernetes API. We'll use Kubeval (www.kubeval.com), an open source tool. You can find information about how to install it in section A.4 of appendix A.