In the case of Messflix, company leaders are planning to utilize the existing data for automatically recommending scripts for production.

Let's try to write down required use cases in a more descriptive manner. That will help us analyze them later. Business stakeholders, such as CDOs or senior data scientists, usually provide such use cases. Or you may reverse engineer them from domain storytelling or descriptions of currently existing solutions.

USE CASE DESCRIPTION TEMPLATE

To make the description of a data use case self-explanatory, you need to capture at least the following:
