- Use tags to track usage: When creating a new SQL warehouse, use tags to code your warehouse endpoint with the correct project. Tagging is a great way to understand usage by project or team. System tables contain the information for tracking usage.

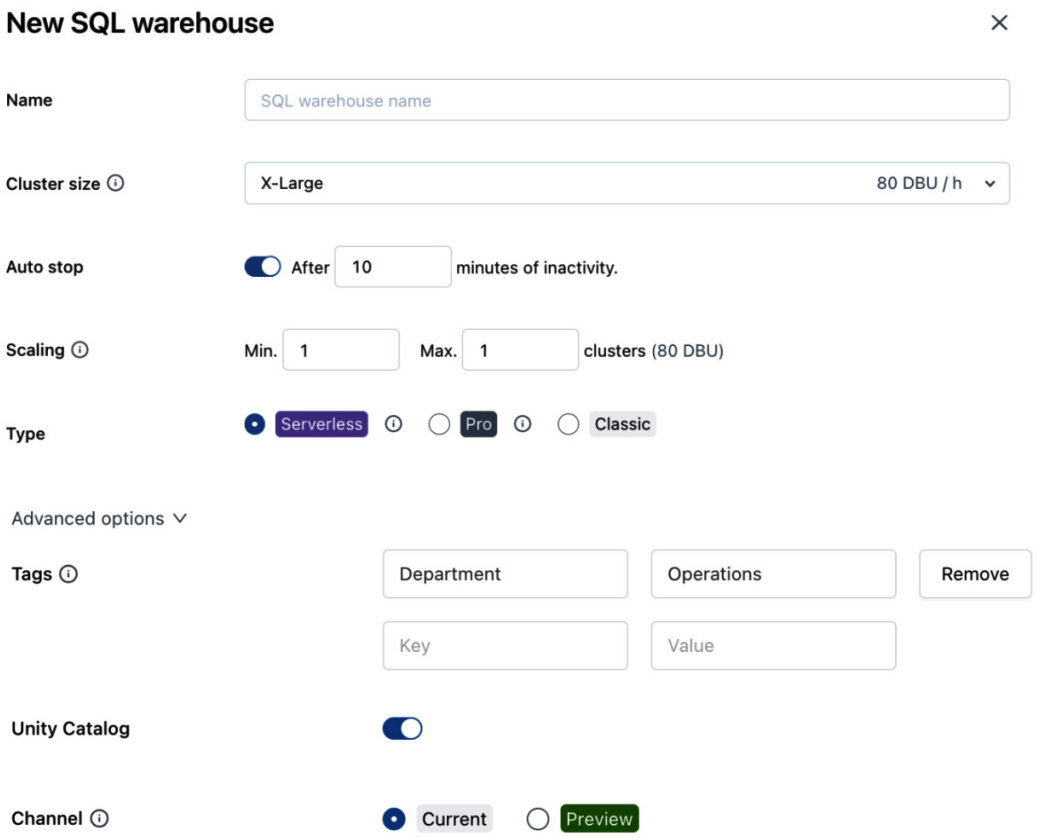

Figure 8.15 – Using tags to connect an endpoint to a project

Next, you'll learn how to connect your models to applications.