the Submit button again, you should see an error message with an HTTP status 403. Figure C.7 shows both the success and error messages.

As you can see from this example, the Express middleware takes care of the details of implementing the CSRF token.